

STARTUP PROGRAM FOR GEOSCIENCE

Are you considering starting your own business or have you already started and are ready for the next step? Then the startup program for Geoscience might be something for you.

The course can be taken as a 15 ECTS Geoerhvervsprojekt

The startup program, is an opportunity to get hands-on experience testing and building a business and using your academic skills while getting ECTS-credits.

If you choose the startup program you will become part of a cohort of students from the entire university, who all participate in the same program consisting of workshops, business development and peer-to-peer sessions.
